NBS-4 - Annual return on repayment of deposits

The Reserve Bank has put in place comprehensive regulatory and supervisory mechanism for Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) to ensure that these companies work on sound and healthy lines and the interests of the depositors are adequately protected. RBI Amendment Act, 1997 has made it mandatory for NBFCs to obtain Certificate of Registration from the Bank as a pre-requisite for commencing or continuing the business of a NBFC. On application, the Bank grants CoR to the companies under Section 45-1A of RBI Act, 1934 on fulfillment of criteria laid down therein. Further companies can hold CoR only as long as they continue to fulfil these requirements. In case a company does not fulfil the conditions for grant of CoR or continuance of CoR, the Bank rejects the application of the company or cancels the CoR granted to it, as the case may be.

2. The regulatory and supervisory attention of the Bank is being focussed on companies which are holding public deposits. In order to protect the interests of depositors and to monitor the repayment of public deposits of companies holding public deposits and whose applications have been rejected or Certificates of Registration have been cancelled, the Bank has devised a new return, NBS-4, to be submitted by such companies on a monthly basis to the Regional Office under whose jurisdiction the registered office of the company is located. The return has been introduced from June 30, 2000 and the rejected companies have been advised accordingly.
