INTRODUCTION

The Statistical Tables relating to Banks in India for the year 1950, which is the ninth in the series since its publication was taken over by the Reserve Bank in 1941, relates to banks functioning in the Indian Union, whether registered in the Indian Union or outside.

The presentation of the statistics is generally on the same lines as in previous issues. The Tables have been divided into two parts—Summary and Detailed. The Summary Tables present a consolidated picture of the more important liabilities and assets of the several classes of banks. The details of the liabilities and assets of each individual bank are given in the Detailed Tables.

In the Detailed Tables, the data regarding co-operative banks have been enlarged: 'cash in hand and at banks' has been sub-divided into (i) cash in hand and (ii) cash at banks and an additional column has been inserted to show the profit or loss during the year. Corresponding changes have been effected in the Summary Tables.

The following additions have been made to the Summary Tables : Table 1 (iii)—Liabilities and Assets of the Reserve Bank of India—Issue and Banking Departments Combined ; Table 4(i)—Liabilities and Assets of the Several Classes of Joint Stock Banks, 1949 and 1950 ; Table 4 (ii)—Income, Expenditure and Distribution of Profits of the Several Classes of Joint Stock Banks, 1949 and 1950 ; Table 8 (ii)—Earnings and Expenses of Exchange Banks, 1949 and 1950 ; Table 15—Ownership of Deposits of Banks, 1945 to 1950 and Table 16—Investments of Banks, 1945 to 1950.

Figures have been revised wherever more recent data were available.

Explanatory Note on the Tables

The Banks included in the Statistical Tables have been classified as follows :

- (i) Reserve Bank of India,
- (ii) Indian banks comprising :
 - (a) the Imperial Bank of India and other Indian scheduled banks,
 - (b) Indian non-scheduled banks or Indian joint stock banks other than those included in the Second Schedule to the Reserve Bank of India Act, and
 - (c) Indian co-operative banks registered under the laws of the States where they are situated, and
- (iii) Foreign banks comprising scheduled and non-scheduled banks, whose registered offices are located outside the Indian Union.

Banks which carry on the business of banking in any State to which the Reserve Bank of India Act extends and which (a) have paid-up capital and reserves of an aggregate, real or exchangeable, value of not less than Rs. 5 lakhs, and (b) are companies as defined in Section 2(2) of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, or corporations or companies incorporated by or under any law in force in any place outside India, are eligible for inclusion in the Second Schedule to the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, and when so included are known as scheduled banks.

There were only two scheduled banks with registered offices in Pakistan in 1947 and 1948 ; in 1946, the registered office of one of them was within the limits of the present Indian Union and that of the other within the present limits of Pakistan. Twelve scheduled banks, which had registered offices in Pakistan in 1946, shifted them subsequently to places in the Indian Union.

The non-scheduled banks have been divided into four classes : A2 banks or banks which have paid-up capital and reserves of Rs. 5 lakhs and above each, but which have not been included in the Second Schedule to the Reserve Bank of India Act ; B banks or banks each having paid-up capital and reserves between Rs. 1 lakh and Rs. 5 lakhs ; C banks or banks each having paid-up capital and reserves between Rs. 50,000 and Rs. 1 lakh ; and D banks or banks each having paid-up capital and reserves of less than Rs. 50,000. A2 banks include several banks registered and working in the former Indian States which had not acceded to the Indian Union in respect of banking and had no branches in the Indian Union, and were, therefore, not eligible for inclusion in the Second Schedule. Non-scheduled banks included in the Tables comprise those which had been classified as banking companies under Section 277F of the Indian Companies Act and which, therefore, submitted monthly returns of their demand and time liabilities and cash balances under Section 277L of that Act, and those registered in the Indian States. From September 1948 to February 1949 the returns were submitted under the Banking Companies (Control) Ordinance, 1948 and subsequently under the Banking Companies Act, 1949. Data relating to D banks are shown only in the Summary Tables.

Prior to March 1949, any company which used as part of its name the word 'bank', 'banker' or 'banking' was deemed to be, according to the Indian Companies Act, 1913, as amended in 1942, a banking company, irrespective of whether or not banking was its principal business. Under the Banking Companies Act, 1949, the business which a banking company may transact has been defined and minimum paid-up capital and reserves, varying with the geographical coverage of a banking company, have been prescribed. The minimum paid-up capital and reserves required of a banking company having only one office, situated outside the city of Bombay or Calcutta, has been fixed at Rs. 50,000. A banking company is required to use as part of its name the words 'bank', 'banker' or 'banking,' and a non-banking company is prohibited from using any of these words in its name. The provision with regard to the name came into force on 16 March 1951 and the limitation with regard to capital will become applicable on 16 March 1952.

Co-operative banks covered by this publication comprise provincial and central co-operative banks, and registered non-agricultural (urban) co-operative credit societies, with limited liability, each having minimum paid-up capital and reserves of Rs. 1 lakh. They are sub-divided into two classes, namely, A banks each with capital and reserves of Rs. 5 lakhs and above, and B banks each with capital and reserves ranging between Rs. 1 lakh and Rs. 5 lakhs.

Table 1 :—Liabilities and Assets of the Reserve Bank of India. From 15 August 1947 to 30 June 1948 the Reserve Bank of India functioned as the central bank for the Indian Union and Pakistan. The liabilities and assets relating to Pakistan for this period are given in brackets below the consolidated figures for the Indian Union and Pakistan. Notes in circulation since 1 July 1948 include India notes issued prior to partition and held by the State Bank of Pakistan pending return to the Reserve Bank of India, and India notes returned from Pakistan and awaiting cancellation.

Table 2 :—Liabilities and Assets of the Imperial Bank of India. The liabilities and assets relate to the business of the bank both in the Indian Union and abroad. The figures of the offices of the bank for 1943 and earlier years include offices in Burma, for 1944 and 1945 they relate to undivided India, and for 1946 and after to the Indian Union. For the years 1946 to 1950 the number of offices outside the Indian Union are indicated in brackets.

Table 3 :—Liabilities and Assets of Foreign Banks. The figures relating to exchange banks (banks incorporated outside the Indian Union and Pakistan) for 1945 and earlier years are as on the last Friday of each year, and for subsequent years as on the date of the balance sheet which, with one exception for the years 1946 to 1948, are as on 31 December. For 1945 and earlier years statistics of current and time deposits not being available, the data on demand and time liabilities from returns under Section 42(2) of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, is taken to represent demand and time deposits; for subsequent years statistics of deposits have been taken from the balance sheets of banks. The statistics of deposits from 1949 of 'Other Foreign Banks' are as shown in their respective balance sheets prepared under Section 29(1) of the Banking Companies Act, 1949, and for earlier years were compiled from the statistics supplied by the banks or were estimated on the basis of available data.

Table 4(i) :—Liabilities and Assets of the Several Classes of Joint Stock Banks 1949 and 1950. Table 4(i) gives details of liabilities and assets of joint stock banks as given in their balance sheets. For purposes of this Table Scheduled banks have been sub-divided into (i) Imperial Bank of India, (ii) Indian scheduled banks, with deposits of Rs. 25 crores and above each, (iii) other Indian scheduled banks and (iv) foreign banks, and Non-scheduled banks have been sub-divided according to paid-up capital and reserves into A2, B, C and D classes as set out in a previous paragraph. In respect of cash and investments, the figures in this table contain fuller details than in the detailed tables and in the summary tables 5 (ii), (iii), 10 and 11 which have been compiled from returns in a prescribed form; in respect of deposits 'Current and Contingency Accounts' have been grouped together in Table 4 (i) while in the detailed and summary tables Contingency Accounts have been separated from Current Accounts and have been grouped with mainly 'Other deposits' and partly 'Other liabilities'. In the case of banks to which the Banking Companies Act did not apply, and, whose balance sheets consequently did not provide the details required for purposes of this table the deficiency was made good from data contained in the returns referred to above.

Table 4 (ii) :—Income, Expenditure and Distribution of Profits of the Several Classes of Joint Stock Banks, 1949 and 1950. Table 4(ii) gives details of income, expenditure and distribution of profits as given in the profit and loss account and the directors' report to the shareholders. Net profit shown in this table refer to profit prior to allocations for taxation and to reserves; in the case of banks whose accounts show such allocations the necessary adjustments have been made in the figures. The data regarding income, expenditure and distribution of profits relate, in most cases, to the full twelve months. In a few cases where the date of the balance sheet was changed to December in accordance with Section 29 of the Banking Companies Act, the data relate to less or more than twelve months. The figures in this table differ from the figures in Tables 8(i), (ii) and (iii) which relate to the earnings and expenses of the Indian scheduled banks, the exchange banks and the larger non-scheduled banks.

Tables 5(i), (ii) and (iii) :—Liabilities and Assets of Indian Joint Stock Banks. Table 5(i) relates to joint stock banks registered in undivided India and refers to the years ending 1945 ; and Table 5(ii) relates to joint stock banks having their registered offices in the Indian Union and refers to subsequent years. The figures for the year 1946 cover banks which transferred their registered offices from Pakistan to the Indian Union by 31 December 1947, and exclude banks which transferred their registered offices from the Indian Union to Pakistan by the same date.

Table 5(iii), which refers to the years beginning with 1946, relates to banks included in Table 5 (ii) and gives separately statistics of their business in the Indian Union and their total business. The Table excludes the business in the Indian Union of foreign banks. Some banks could not submit returns for the years 1946 and 1947 due to the non-availability of the necessary records ; certain other banks had suspended payments temporarily or were not functioning fully during these years. The data with regard to them were derived from the overall figures in their balance sheets, which were available for these years, and the detailed figures contained in a return for the nearest available date.

Table 6(i) :—Consolidated Position (Weekly) of Scheduled Banks for 1950. Table 6(i) is compiled from the weekly returns submitted by scheduled banks under Section 42(2) of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1943, and relates to their working in the Indian Union.

Table 6(ii) :—Demand and Time Liabilities and Cash Balances of Non-Scheduled Banks, 1938 to 1947. Table 6(ii) relates to undivided India including the former Indian States for the years ending 1946 and, thereafter, to the Indian Union including all States, whether they had acceded to the Indian Union with respect to banking or not. It is compiled mainly from the returns submitted under Section 277L of the Indian Companies Act, 1913 as amended in 1936, and in part from available returns submitted by banks in the former Indian States in terms of the laws applicable to banks in the respective States.

Table 6(iii) :—Liabilities and Assets (Monthly) of Joint Stock Banks, 1948 to 1950. Table 6(iii) is compiled for part of the period (up to December 1948) from the returns submitted under Section 8(1) of the Banking Companies (Control) Ordinance, 1948, and for the rest of the period from the returns submitted under Section 27 (1) of the Banking Companies Act, 1949. It deals with the liabilities and assets of banking companies in the former Provinces of India and the former Indian States to which the Dominion laws in respect of banking were applicable. The Banking Companies Act, 1949 covered all Indian States which had acceded to the Indian Union as respects banking and from 18 March 1950 it was extended to the whole of the Indian Union, except the State of Jammu and Kashmir. As the Banking Companies Act is applicable only to those banking companies which can be wound up under the Indian Companies Act, banks operating entirely in Merged States and Part C States were included in this Table as of 1 January 1950 and 1 April 1950, respectively, on which dates the Indian Companies Act was extended to these States. The figures in this Table, therefore, differ from the figures given in Tables 6(i) and 6(ii), which relate to banks in the entire Indian Union.

Table 7 :—State-wise Distribution of Offices, Deposits and Advances of Scheduled Banks, 1949 and 1950. Table 7 gives statistics of the State-wise distribution of the offices, of deposits and of advances of scheduled banks. It differs from Table 14 which excludes foreign banks.

Table 8(i), (ii) and (iii):—Earnings and Expenses of Banks (1946 to 1950). Table 8(i) and 8(iii) relate, respectively, to Indian scheduled banks, and non-scheduled banks each having paid-up capital and reserves of Rs. 5 lakhs & above. Table 8(ii) relates to the earnings and expenses of exchange banks in respect of their business in the Indian Union. In the case of banks, where the balance sheet and profit and loss account (on the basis of which returns are supplied for the purposes of this publication), covered a period of less than twelve months, annual figures for 1949 were derived on the basis of available data.

Table 9 :—Liabilities and Assets of Indian Co-operative Banks. Table 9(i), which deals with the years 1930-31 to 1944-45, relates to co-operative banks in undivided India; and Table 9(ii), which deals with the years 1945-46 to 1949-50 relates to co-operative banks in the Indian Union. The data for these tables were supplied by the Registrars of Co-operative Societies in the several States and refer to the co-operative years in the respective States. For years for which statistics were not available those for the nearest year for which they were available were substituted, and where the total of the balance sheet was not available, the figure for total assets or total liabilities, whichever was higher, was taken.

Table 10 :—Liabilities and Assets of the Several Classes of Banks in the Indian Union. Table 10 brings together for convenience of comparison the data for the past few years as given in Tables 3, 5(ii) and 9(ii).

Table 11 :—Liabilities and Assets of Indian Joint Stock Banks, Classified by Size of Deposits, 1950. It deals with banks included in Table 5(ii).

Table 13(i) :—Distribution of Offices of the Several Classes of Banks by Population in 1950. Table 13(i) classifies the branches of the several categories of banks by reference to the numbers of the population of the places of their location. Wherever available, population figures according to the 1951 census were obtained from banks; in other cases the figures were taken from the Census Reports for 1941; in still other cases they were supplied by the (former) Provincial or State Governments or banks and relate to years subsequent to 1941. Offices situated in places for which population figures were not available are treated as 'unclassified'.

Table 13 (ii) :—Distribution of Banking Offices by Population in the Several States in 1950. Table 13(ii) gives statistics of the number of banking offices in the several States of the Indian Union by reference to the population of the places of their location.

Tables 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 embody the results of the surveys conducted by the Reserve Bank of India of deposits, investments and advances of banks. After the Banking Companies Act, 1949 came into force, the data of the surveys were supplied by banks in terms of Section 27(2) of the Act. The first of the present series of these surveys relate to the position as at 30 June 1949; the surveys of advances are quarterly and relate to all joint stock banks; the surveys of investments and deposits are half-yearly and relate to all scheduled banks and a sample of non-scheduled banks. The tables also give the results of the earlier annual surveys of investments and deposits of all scheduled banks.

Tables 15 and 17(i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) :—Ownership of Deposits of Banks. Table 15 gives the results, in summary form, of the surveys of the ownership of deposits of banks from 1945 to 1950. For the 1945 and 1946 surveys the statistics relate to the offices of banks in undivided India and for subsequent surveys to their offices in the Indian Union. The figures relating to demand deposits are not comparable owing to changes in the data collected : while figures as at 31 December 1945 and since June 1949 relate to demand deposits only, those from December 1946 to December 1948 include the demand liability part of savings deposits ; secondly, while the figures as at 31 December 1945 and 31 December 1946 exclude inter-bank deposits, those from 1947 include them ; thirdly, while for the 1945 and 1946 surveys unclassified deposits represented deposits in accounts of less than Rs. 500 of banks having total demand deposits of Rs. 5 crores or above, for subsequent surveys they represented deposits in accounts of less than Rs. 500 of all banks.

Tables 17(i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) :—Tables 17(i) and (ii) deal in fuller detail with the ownership of deposits of scheduled banks in the Indian Union and relate to their position as at the end of June and December 1950, respectively ; Tables 17(iii) and (iv) give similar statistics for a sample of non-scheduled banks.

Tables 16, 19(i) and 19(ii) :—Investments of Banks. The investments covered by the surveys comprise the total investments of Indian banks and the investments against their Indian Union business of foreign banks. Table 16 gives, in summary form, the more important items of investments of scheduled banks from 1945 to 1950 and of a sample of non-scheduled banks from June 1949 to December 1950. Investments in government securities comprise investments in securities (including Treasury bills, Treasury Deposit Receipts and Postal Certificates) of Central and Provincial Governments of undivided India from 1945 to 1947 and thereafter of Central and State Governments (for 1948 and 1949 the latter refer to the Provinces and the Indian States) of the Indian Union.

Table 19(i) shows investments by maturity groups of scheduled banks and a sample of non-scheduled banks in domestic government securities including Treasury bills, Treasury Deposit Receipts and Postal Certificates as at 31 December 1949, 30 June 1950 and 31 December 1950. Table 19(ii) contains details of total investments of scheduled banks and a sample of non-scheduled banks in the Indian Union as at 31 December 1949, 30 June 1950 and 31 December 1950.

Tables 18(i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) :—Analysis of Bank Advances. Tables 18(i) and (ii) give a classification of advances (including bills discounted and purchased) of scheduled banks according to purpose (or the principal business of the borrower) and security, respectively, for the seven quarterly surveys from June 1949 to December 1950. Tables 18(iii) and 18(iv) give a similar classification, according to purpose and security, of advances of non-scheduled banks. The figures for the 1949 surveys have been revised.

Table 20 :—Interest Allowed by Larger Scheduled Banks on Deposits during 1950. The interest rates on deposits shown in this Table relate to thirteen scheduled banks, each with deposit liabilities of Rs. 10 crores and above at the close of each quarter in 1950.

Table 26 :—Indian Joint Stock Banks Liquidated in 1950. Table 26 shows the number of joint stock banks which went into voluntary liquidation, or were ordered to be liquidated, or otherwise ceased to function during the year. The data were furnished by the Registrars of Joint Stock Companies. For the years prior to 1948 the statistics relate to undivided India.

Tables 28, 29 and 30 :—Detailed Tables. Tables 28A, 29 and 30 are compiled from the balance sheet figures for each individual bank and relate to their total business including business outside the Indian Union. Table 28B relates to the business of the Indian Union offices of foreign banks as shown in their balance sheets in terms of Section 29(1) of the Banking Companies Act, 1949.

In Table 29, banks with paid-up capital and reserves of less than Rs. 50,000 are excluded. The names of the towns in which the registered offices of the banks are located are shown after the names of banks in column 2. Net profits earned are shown in brackets by the side of the balance of profits or loss in column 14. The number of offices of banks outside the Indian Union is shown in brackets by the side of the number of offices in the Indian Union in column 24.

Appendices:—Appendix I gives the names of banks operating in the principal towns of the Indian Union. Banks other than scheduled banks and provincial co-operative banks are shown in italics. Non-scheduled banks with paid-up capital and reserves below Rs. 50,000, and banks which did not furnish the required data for 1949 and 1950, are omitted. Population figures are shown in brackets against each town. These figures are mainly from the 1951 Census and were supplied by banks; in some cases the figures were taken from the 1941 Census Report, and some were supplied by the (former) Provincial or State Governments or banks and relate to years subsequent to 1941. The information in respect of scheduled banks has been brought up to 31 March 1951. The branches which were closed after the date of the balance sheet are indicated with an asterisk. The old names of places are shown in brackets by the side of the new.

Appendix II gives the names of Indian joint stock banks operating in places outside the Indian Union, and Appendix III, the names of the London agents and correspondents of scheduled banks. The names of the members and sub-members of the clearing houses in the Indian Union as at 31 March 1951 are given in Appendix IV.

The names of non-scheduled banks and indigenous bankers, included in the approved list of banks which are entitled to the concessional rates of remittances under the Reserve Bank's scheme of remittance facilities, introduced in October 1940, are given in Appendix V and the rates for such remittances in Appendix VI.

Banking Developments

In contrast with a contraction of about Rs. 152 crores in the preceding year and a half, the demand and time liabilities* of scheduled banks rose by Rs. 28 crores during 1950. This resulted partly from a change in the balance of payments position of the country from a heavy deficit in 1949 to a surplus in 1950, partly from the open market purchases of government securities by the Reserve Bank of India as evidenced by a rise of Rs. 26 crores in the rupee investments of the Bank during 1950 and partly from a rise in the credit extended by banks as reflected in an increase in loans and advances by Rs. 35 crores in the year. The demand and time liabilities tended to increase even during the busy season when they normally show a downtrend. Seasonal stringency in money conditions in the early part of the year was comparatively

* Demand and time liabilities refer to total liabilities less paid-up capital, reserves, credit balances in the profit and loss account and loans from the Reserve Bank of India. Thus demand and time liabilities include, besides demand and time deposits other items such as inter-bank borrowings ('due to other banks'), branch adjustments, unpaid dividends, interest payable, etc.

less severe than in 1949. With the rise in prices and with the progress of speculative hoarding of commodities, which had followed the outbreak of the Korean War, the demand for bank credit, however, increased and the loans and advances of the scheduled banks showed a marked rise during the year as against a nominal rise of Rs. 1 crore in 1949.

The downtrend in the number of banking offices, noticed in recent years, continued in 1950, the Bank Award, which added to the establishment costs of banks, probably contributing to the process. The Bank Award also explains, in part, a fall in net profits in 1950, relatively to 1949. The dividends distributed and bonus to staff were, however, maintained or increased by lesser provision for taxation and allocations to special reserves. In December 1950 four scheduled banks in Bengal were amalgamated into the United Bank of India. With deposits of nearly Rs. 30 crores it ranks among the major Indian scheduled banks.

During the year the deposits of joint stock banks and the larger co-operative banks rose by Rs. 26 crores to Rs. 1,037 crores and their advances by Rs. 17 crores to Rs. 569 crores. The rise in deposits was mainly in the case of scheduled banks (Rs. 21½ crores), non-scheduled banks and co-operative banks showing minor increases of Rs. 2¼ crores and Rs. 2½ crores, respectively. The rise in advances was the net result of increases of Rs. 20 crores and Rs. ¼ crore in the advances of scheduled banks and larger co-operative banks, respectively, and a decrease of Rs. 3½ crores in the advances of non-scheduled banks. Scheduled banks, which constitute less than one-sixth of the total number of banks in the Indian Union, accounted for about 85 per cent of total deposits and a little over 80 per cent of total advances. In recent years co-operative banks have forged ahead of non-scheduled banks in the relative magnitude of their banking business. As at the close of 1950 the deposits of co-operative banks amounted to Rs. 90 crores and their advances to Rs. 61 crores. The corresponding deposits and advances of non-scheduled banks were, respectively, Rs. 72 crores and Rs. 47 crores (Table A, page xii).

Banking Facilities

The number of offices of scheduled banks declined by 9 to 2,843 during 1950 though, owing to the failure to report of certain banks with 26 offices and the removal from the Second Schedule of one bank (which had reported last year) with 38 offices, the returns submitted by scheduled banks show that the number of their offices declined during the year by 73 to 2,779. This decline is the net result of an addition of 31 offices of three banks which were enlisted in the Second Schedule during the year, an increase by 5 in the number of offices of the Imperial Bank of India, and a fall by 10 and 99 in the number of offices of foreign scheduled banks and other scheduled banks, respectively.

The number of offices of non-scheduled banks declined by 15 to 1,574 at the end of 1950. This was the net result of a fall of 28 in the number of offices of A2 banks, and a rise of 5 and 17, respectively, in the number of offices of B and C banks. The fall in the number of offices of A2 banks reflects a transfer of 3 A2 banks with 31 offices to the category of scheduled banks. If allowance is made for this the number of offices of A2 banks may be said to have risen by 3 during the year. The increase in the number of offices of B and C banks is due to an increase in the number of reporting banks in 1950.

The number of offices of all classes of banks fell by 24 during 1950, though, owing to the failure to report of some banks, the returns submitted show an overall decline of 88 offices (Table B, page xiv). Indian banks continued to reduce the number of their offices abroad, (mainly Pakistan) as may be seen from the Table below:

1948	226	46
1949	144	31
1950	125	26

The fall in 1950 was confined to the offices in Pakistan; the offices in countries other than Pakistan rose by 3 to 28 during the year.

The offices of co-operative banks rose from 646 in 1949 to 724 in 1950; about 60 per cent of the total number of their offices are in the smaller towns (Table 13(i), page 23).

About 56 per cent of the offices of scheduled banks (as against 52 per cent in 1949) are in the larger towns and cities, and about 64 per cent of the offices of non-scheduled banks (as against 67 per cent in 1949) in the smaller towns. The offices of scheduled banks in the smaller towns are numerically larger than the offices of non-scheduled banks in them. The bias in favour of the larger population centres continues (Table 13(i), page 23).

The distribution of banking offices as at the close of 1950 shows that about 47 per cent or 2,396 offices are in 175 towns having a population of 50,000 and above, which represents an average of one banking office per 12,481 of their population; 53 per cent or 2,681 offices are located in 1,379 places having a population of less than 50,000 which yields an average of one banking office for every 7,190 of their population. For all places which are served by a banking office the average ratio of banks to population is one bank for every 9,819 of the population; for the Indian Union as a whole, the average ratio is one banking office for every 70,351 of the population.

During 1950, 37 banks (as reported by the Registrars of Joint Stock Companies) either went into voluntary liquidation, were ordered to be liquidated or otherwise ceased to function. Their aggregate paid-up capital was Rs. 1.05 crores.

Capital and Reserves

The working of the control of capital issues relating to banks during the year shows that 80 applications were received from banks for the issue of additional capital and 5 applications were received for the floatation of new banking companies. Forty-eight of the former and one of the latter applications received the approval of the Reserve Bank of India.

The returns show that the paid-up capital and reserves of banks (excluding banks floated during the year) rose by Rs. 1 crore each. The ratio of paid-up capital and reserves to deposits of Indian scheduled banks remained, however, unchanged at 8.3 per cent in 1950 as compared with 1949 as the deposits of these banks had risen, in the meanwhile, in the same ratio as their capital and reserves. The rise in the paid-up capital and reserves of Indian non-scheduled banks and co-operative banks, being proportionately larger than the increase in their deposits, their ratio of paid-up capital and reserves to deposits rose from 19.0 per cent in 1949 to 19.5 per cent in 1950 in the case of Indian non-scheduled banks and from 16.8 per cent in 1949 to 18.4 per cent in 1950 in the case of co-operative banks (Table C, page xiv).

Deposits

The total deposits of joint stock banks in the Indian Union rose in 1950 by Rs. 23·55 crores to Rs. 946·66 crores in contrast with a sharp fall of Rs. 87·18 crores in the previous year. All classes of deposits participated in this rise, fixed deposits accounting for nearly one half of it (Rs. 10·10 crores) followed by 'other deposits' (Rs. 7·47 crores) and savings deposits (Rs. 3·81 crores). Current deposits showed a small rise of Rs. 2·17 crores (Table D, page xvi and Table 5(iii), page 9). The rise in the deposits of scheduled banks during the year amounted to Rs. 21·25 crores, of which Rs. 8·56 crores was in fixed deposits, Rs. 7·42 crores in 'other deposits', Rs. 3·66 crores in current deposits and Rs. 1·61 crores in savings deposits. The total deposits of scheduled banks at the close of 1950 amounted to Rs. 874·17 crores as against Rs. 852·92 crores a year earlier.

The deposits in the Indian Union of Indian scheduled banks increased by Rs. 12·02 crores to Rs. 698·41 crores as against a decline of Rs. 82·38 crores in 1949. The total deposits of foreign scheduled banks registered a rise of Rs. 9·23 crores to Rs. 175·76 crores ; in the previous year they had remained unchanged. The total deposits outside the Indian Union, mainly in Pakistan, of the Indian scheduled banks continued to decline. They fell during the year by Rs. 17·22 crores to Rs. 55·95 crores ; current deposits fell by Rs. 20·58 crores, savings deposits by Rs. 0·83 crore and fixed deposits by Rs. 0·58 crore ; these declines were partially offset by a rise of Rs. 4·76 crores in 'other deposits'. The decline in total deposits outside the Indian Union in 1949 and 1948 amounted to Rs. 33·26 crores and Rs. 4·32 crores, respectively (Table 5 (iii), page 9). The large fall in deposits in 1950 (as in 1949) was due, in part, to the smaller number of offices abroad and, in part, it probably reflects the reduced requirements of funds in Pakistan on the part of Indian importers. Since the devaluation of the Indian rupee in September 1949, for sometime, while the exchange deadlock continued, there was hardly any trade between India and Pakistan, and since the resolution of the deadlock the resumption in trade has been only on a restricted scale.

The total deposits of non-scheduled banks in the Indian Union rose by Rs. 2·30 crores to Rs. 72·49 crores ; fixed, savings and 'other' deposits rose by Rs. 1·54 crores, Rs. 2·20 crores and Rs. 6 lakhs, respectively, while current deposits declined by Rs. 1·48 crores.

The total deposits of co-operative banks continued their uptrend noticed in recent years ; during 1950 they rose by Rs. 2·46 crores to Rs. 90·01 crores.

Of banks having deposits of Rs. 1 crore and above in 1950, 53 (42 scheduled banks and 11 non-scheduled banks) or 9 per cent of the number of banks account for 93 per cent of deposits of all Indian joint stock banks ; the eight largest amongst scheduled banks have over 70 per cent of the total deposits. Non-scheduled banks have larger fixed deposits than savings or current deposits (Table 11, page 22). The eight largest among scheduled banks and one non-scheduled bank with deposits of over Rs. 5 crores have reserves in excess of their paid-up capital.

The Reserve Bank of India surveys of the ownership of deposits of scheduled banks show that their deposits rose from Rs. 826 crores in December 1949 to Rs. 840 crores in June 1950 and to Rs. 849 crores in December 1950. The increase of Rs. 23 crores over the year reflects a rise in time, demand and savings deposits of Rs. 13 crores, Rs. 7 crores and Rs. 3 crores, respectively. The increase in time and demand deposits was almost wholly under business deposits. Of the total deposits covered by the survey as at 31 December 1950, Rs. 486 crores (57 per cent) were demand deposits, Rs. 137 crores (16 per cent) savings deposits and Rs. 227 crores (27 per cent) time deposits (Tables 15 and 16, pages 26, 27). The ownership pattern of the several types of deposits showed little change during the year. About half (52 per cent) of demand deposits were owned by business concerns and 28 per cent were personal deposits, nearly three-fifths (57 per cent) of time deposits were personal deposits and 26 per cent were owned by business concerns. Savings deposits were almost entirely personal (96 per cent).

Cash

The cash balances of scheduled banks and of non-scheduled banks declined during the year ; in the context of a rise in deposits this meant an appreciable fall in the cash ratio. The cash balances of scheduled banks declined by Rs. 13·24 crores to Rs. 122·70 crores and their ratio to deposits fell from 15·94 per cent in 1949 to 14·04 per cent in 1950. The cash balances of Indian scheduled banks fell by Rs. 13·00 crores to Rs. 103·55 crores in 1950 and their cash ratio declined from 16·98 per cent in 1949 to 14·83 per cent in 1950. The cash balances of non-scheduled banks declined by Rs. 61 lakhs and their cash ratio fell from 16·84 per cent in 1949 to 15·46 per cent in 1950. The cash balances of A2 banks declined during the same interval by Rs. 1·34 crores to Rs. 6·14 crores and their cash ratio from 16·87 per cent to 13·57 per cent. In the case of B, C and D banks, cash balances and the cash ratio rose considerably during the year, the former from Rs. 4·22 crores to Rs. 4·95 crores for the three groups together and the latter from 16·53 per cent to 18·38 per cent. In contrast with joint stock banks, the cash balances of co-operative banks, rose by Rs. 3·30 crores to Rs. 11·89 crores, their cash ratio rising from 9·81 per cent in 1948-49 to 13·21 per cent in 1949-50 (Table E, page xvi).

Investments

The investments of banks registered a modest recovery during the year, despite an increase in bank credit (loans and advances and bills purchased and discounted), owing partly to an increase in deposits and partly to a running down of cash balances. The investments of Indian joint stock banks rose by Rs. 19·52 crores in contrast with a decline of Rs. 94·17 crores in 1949 and the investments of co-operative banks by Rs. 1·20 crores as against a decline of Rs. 2·51 crores in the previous year.

The investments of Indian scheduled banks increased by Rs. 12·80 crores to Rs. 361·51 crores during the year, the increase, as in the case of a fall last year, occurring mainly in government securities; the ratio of total investments to deposits rose from 45·91 per cent in 1949 to 47·92 per cent in 1950. The larger among the Indian non-scheduled banks, showed a rise in their investments, mainly in government securities, of Rs. 6·41 crores in the case of A2 banks, Rs. 27 lakhs in the case of B banks and Rs. 6 lakhs in the case of C banks. The investments of D banks declined by Rs. 2 lakhs. The ratio of total investments to deposits rose from 30·90 per cent in 1949 to 39·13 per cent in 1950 in the case of Indian non-scheduled banks and from 30·45 per cent to 30·95 per cent in the case of the co-operative banks (Tables G and H, page xviii).

The Reserve Bank of India surveys of investments disclose an increase by Rs. 14 crores to Rs. 416 crores in the investments of scheduled banks during the year ; almost the whole of the rise occurred during the latter half of the year. The investments in government securities accounted for a rise of Rs. 9 crores and trustee securities Rs. 2 crores, and real estate and foreign investments for rises of Rs. 1 crore each. The increase in government securities was the net result of an increase of Rs. 12 crores in securities maturing within 5 years (short-dateds), an increase of Rs. 17 crores in securities maturing between 10 and 15 years (medium-longs), a decrease of Rs. 13 crores in securities maturing between 5 and 10 years (short-mediums) and a decrease of Rs. 7 crores in securities maturing after 15 years (longs). The investments in government securities represented about 88 per cent of the total investments in December 1950 as against about 89 per cent a year earlier. At the end of 1950 scheduled banks' investments in short-dateds and in short-mediums amounted to 33 per cent and 23 per cent of the total, respectively, as against 30 per cent and 27 per cent, respectively, at the end of 1949. Medium-longs and longs represented 30 per cent and 15 per cent of the total, respectively, in 1950 as against 26 per cent and 17 per cent, respectively, in 1949. Investments in government securities maturing within ten years decreased from 57 per cent in 1949 to 56 per cent in 1950. Other investments of scheduled banks amounted to Rs. 50 crores in December 1950, of which Rs. 22 crores were in foreign securities, Rs. 14 crores in shares and debentures of joint stock companies, Rs. 7 crores in trustee securities other than government securities, Rs. 6 crores in real estate and Rs. 1 crore in fixed deposits, bullion and others (Tables 19 (i) and 19 (ii), page 40).

Investments in government securities of all groups of Indian non-scheduled banks rose by Rs. 6·82 crores, of which Rs. 6·56 crores were accounted for by A2 banks. Other investments of Indian non-scheduled banks showed a nominal fall of Rs. 10 lakhs. The ratio of investments to deposits in the case of Indian non-scheduled banks rose to 39·13 per cent in 1950 from 30·90 per cent in 1949.

Loans and Advances

Loans and advances of scheduled banks, including bills purchased and discounted, rose by Rs. 20·11 crores from Rs. 441·54 crores in December 1949 to Rs. 461·65 crores in December 1950 and, despite the rise in the volume of deposits, their ratio to deposits rose, during the same interval, from 51·77 per cent to 52·81 per cent. In the case of Indian scheduled banks loans and advances increased moderately by Rs. 6·57 crores to Rs. 326·00 crores, but their ratio to deposits remained unchanged at 46·68 per cent. Loans and advances of foreign scheduled banks continued their uptrend, noticed in the previous two years, and witnessed a marked increase during the year; they rose by Rs. 13·54 crores to Rs. 135·65 crores in 1950, and the ratio to deposits increased from 73·33 per cent in 1949 to 77·17 per cent in 1950 (Table F, page xviii).

Loans and advances of Indian scheduled banks abroad, in contrast with the previous year (when they fell by 12·93 crores to Rs. 23·26 crores), rose sharply by Rs. 20·37 crores during 1950. The increase in advances (for the first time since partition) took place despite a considerable fall in their deposits, the ratio of advances to deposits rising steeply from 32 per cent to 78 per cent. This probably indicates a larger participation by Indian scheduled banks than in the past in the internal and external trade of Pakistan.

In the case of non-scheduled banks loans and advances declined by Rs. 3·53 crores to Rs. 46·79 crores; in the context of a rise in the volume of deposits this meant a fall in the ratio of their advances to deposits from 71·69 per cent in 1949 to 64·55 per cent in 1950.

Loans and advances of co-operative banks rose by a nominal sum of Rs. 22 lakhs; this was mainly owing to an increase in the number of reporting banks during 1949-50; the ratio of their advances to deposits fell from 69·67 per cent in 1948-49 to 68·03 per cent in 1949-50.

The results of the surveys of advances conducted by the Reserve Bank of India show that loans and advances, including bills purchased and discounted, of scheduled banks, rose from Rs. 439 crores in December 1949 to Rs. 498 crores in March 1950. This quarter covered the more active part of the busy season. During the next two quarters, which saw the advent and progress of the slack season, advances declined to Rs. 476 crores in June 1950 and to Rs. 438 crores in September 1950. With the onset of a new busy season in the last quarter of the year, they rose again to the June-end level. Over the year as a whole advances rose by Rs. 37 crores; loans and advances to industry rose by Rs. 19 crores, to commerce by Rs. 21 crores, to agriculture by Rs. 2 crores and personal and professional loans by Rs. 4 crores; loans and advances to 'all others' fell by Rs. 9 crores. The broad pattern of advances was similar to that in 1949; the share of commerce varied between 48 per cent and 52 per cent, the share of industry, which came next, between 32 per cent and 34 per cent, and the share of agriculture between 2 per cent and 3 per cent; personal and professional advances were about 8-9 per cent and 'all others' about 5-6 per cent. Unsecured advances were about 14 per cent of the total. A classification of advances according to security shows that about 43-46 per cent of the total advances were against merchandise, about 10-11 per cent against government securities and about 11 per cent against other stock exchange securities (Table 18(i) and (ii), pages 32-35).

Loans and advances of non-scheduled banks, as shown in the surveys, amounted to Rs. 42.97 crores at the end of 1950 as against Rs. 43.47 crores at the end of 1949. The share of commerce was about 41-45 per cent; personal and professional advances which came next, accounted for 28-29 per cent, and advances to industry 15-18 per cent. Unsecured advances of non-scheduled banks were about 23-24 per cent of the total, advances against the hypothecation and pledge of merchandise about 19-24 per cent and advances against real estate and bullion, including ornaments, about 20-21 per cent and 15-20 per cent, respectively (Tables 18(iii) and (iv), pages 36-39).

Earnings and Expenses of Banks

The current earnings of Indian scheduled banks rose by Rs. 30 lakhs from Rs. 28.67 crores in 1949 to Rs. 28.97 crores in 1950 and their expenses by Rs. 69 lakhs from Rs. 21.12 crores to Rs. 21.81 crores. Their net current earnings, in continuation of the trend since 1946, fell by Rs. 39 lakhs to Rs. 7.17 crores in 1950. Net profit fell sharply, relatively to 1949, by Rs. 1.30 crores to Rs. 6.58 crores. The current earnings of fifteen exchange banks amounted to Rs. 11.25 crores in 1949 and Rs. 9.41 crores in 1950, and their expenses to Rs. 6.63 crores in 1949 and to Rs. 5.92 crores in 1950. Net profit of exchange banks fell by Rs. 1.24 crores to Rs. 3.34 crores in 1950. In the case of non-scheduled banks current earnings and expenses fell by Rs. 32 lakhs in 1949 and by Rs. 16 lakhs in 1950; net profit dropped by Rs. 17 lakhs (Table I, page xx and Tables 8(i), (ii) and (iii), pages 16-18).

More than half the current earnings of Indian scheduled banks derived as in the past, from bills and loans, though it declined (by Rs. 53 lakhs) from 55 per cent of total earnings in 1949 to 52 per cent in 1950. Earnings from investments in government securities, which come next in importance, rose by Rs. 11 lakhs during the year; as a percentage of total earnings, however, they were about the same (28 per cent) as in 1949. The yield on their holdings of government securities was unchanged (2.6 per cent) relatively to 1949. Earnings from 'other investments' rose from 2 per cent of total earnings in 1949 to 3 per cent in 1950 and all other earnings from 16 per cent to 17 per cent. In the case of exchange banks, which handle the bulk of the foreign trade of the country, earnings from loans and bills constitute about two-thirds of their total earnings (62 per cent in 1949 and 67 per cent in 1950). Their earnings from investments in government securities were about one-eighth (11-12 per cent) of total earnings in 1949 and 1950. Earnings of non-scheduled banks from loans and bills accounted for nearly 71 per cent of their total earnings in 1950; this reflects the comparative importance of loans and bills in the total assets of non-scheduled banks. Their earnings from government securities represented 17 per cent of total earnings, the yield on them remaining unchanged at 2.8 per cent relatively to 1949.

The rising trend in establishment expenses, noticed during the past few years, continued during the year under review; in 1950 they absorbed Rs. 11.25 crores or nearly two-fifths (39 per cent) of the total earnings of Indian scheduled banks as against 36 per cent in 1949 and 33 per cent in 1948.

This rise in establishment expenses during the year occurred despite a reduction in the number of offices of Indian scheduled banks. It reflects, in the main, the higher emoluments paid to the staff since the Bank Award. Interest paid to depositors by Indian scheduled banks declined (by Rs. 17 lakhs) from 22·4 per cent in 1949 to 21·6 per cent in 1950. The percentage of other items of expenditure in 1950 to total earnings remained about the same as in 1949. The establishment expenses of exchange banks, though they rose from 26 per cent of total earnings in 1949 to 33 per cent in 1950, are relatively lower than in the case of Indian scheduled banks. Interest paid to depositors by exchange banks rose during the year but absorbed only about 8 per cent of the total earnings in 1950 as against 22 per cent in the case of Indian scheduled banks and 34 per cent in the case of non-scheduled banks. The establishment expenses of non-scheduled banks rose from 26 per cent in 1949 to 28 per cent in 1950 and interest paid to depositors from 32 per cent to 34 per cent. The ratio of other items of expenditure to total earnings was somewhat higher than in 1949.

The ratio of current operating expenses to total earnings rose from 73·7 per cent in 1949 to 75·3 per cent in the case of Indian scheduled banks, from 59·1 per cent to 63·0 per cent in the case of exchange banks and from 76·3 per cent to 80·8 per cent in the case of non-scheduled banks. The ratio of net profits to total earnings of scheduled banks fell sharply from 28 per cent in 1949 to 23 per cent in 1950, of the exchange banks from 41 per cent to 36 per cent and of the non-scheduled banks from 20 per cent to 14 per cent. Mainly as a consequence of relatively lower expenditure on establishment expenses and the lower interest paid on deposits, net profits of exchange banks represented 36 per cent of their total earnings in 1950, as compared with 23 per cent and 14 per cent, respectively, for Indian scheduled and the larger non-scheduled banks. The ratio of net profits to paid-up capital and reserves fell from 12·9 per cent in 1949 to 10·7 per cent in 1950 in the case of Indian scheduled banks and from 6 per cent to 4 per cent in the case of non-scheduled banks.

Despite a sharp contraction in net profits, the amount set apart for dividends and for bonus to staff by scheduled banks increased during the year. The amount set aside for dividends rose from Rs. 2·38 crores in 1949 to Rs. 2·46 crores in 1950 and that for bonus to staff from Rs. 96 lakhs to Rs. 101 lakhs; the ratio of dividends and bonus to staff to net profits rose from 30 per cent and 12 per cent, respectively, in 1949 to 37 per cent and 15 per cent, respectively, in 1950. Allocations to general reserves were slightly higher at 10 per cent of net profits in 1950 as against 8 per cent in 1949. On the other hand, the amount set aside for taxes and for other special purposes were reduced, their ratio to net profits declining from 32 per cent and 24 per cent, respectively, in 1949 to 25 per cent and 18 per cent, respectively, in 1950. The amount carried forward to next year was lower at Rs. 53 lakhs in 1950 as against Rs. 68 lakhs in 1949. The amount allocated by exchange banks for bonus to staff rose from 3·4 per cent of net profits in 1949 to 6·2 per cent in 1950 and the amount set aside for taxation declined sharply from 47 per cent in 1949 to 35 per cent in 1950; allocations to general reserves were slightly higher at 5·7 per cent of net profits in 1950 as against 5·2 per cent in 1949. In the case of non-scheduled banks, dividends to shareholders and bonus to staff rose from 30 per cent and 7 per cent, respectively, of net profits in 1949 to 38 per cent and 9 per cent, respectively, in 1950. Allocations to general reserves rose from 31 per cent of net profits in 1949 to 35 per cent in 1950. The amounts set aside for taxation and other special purposes accounted for 29 per cent and 19 per cent of net profits, respectively, as against 30 per cent and 22 per cent, respectively, in 1949.
