VI. RESERVE BANK OF INDIA PUBLICATIONS ... 235-236

INTRODUCTION

The Statistical Tables relating to Banks in India for the year 1967 is the twenty-sixth in the series since the publication was taken over by the Reserve Bank in 1941. The publication covers banks functioning in India, whether registered in India or abroad. The presentation of data generally follows the pattern of earlier issues. The Summary Tables give the more important items of liabilities and assets of several classes of banks, while the detailed tables give particulars regarding individual banks. The data for 1966 have been revised, wherever necessary, in the light of information received subsequent to the publication of the 1966 issue of the Tables. There are, however, some changes introduced this year in the scope and coverage of data presented in some of the tables with a view to bringing about consistency and uniformity. These are referred to later.

2. The number of banks covered by the Tables is as follows :

@ The two foreign commercial banks being under the Custodian of Enemy Property since September 7, 1965 have been excluded from filing returns from 1966.

For 1967, out of 73 scheduled commercial banks and 20 non-scheduled commercial banks functioning at the end of 1967, 71 scheduled and 20 non-scheduled banks have been covered in the Tables. The decline by 2 in the number of functioning Indian scheduled commercial banks at the end of 1967 is due to the transfer of assets and liabilities by two banks to another, while that by 7 in the functioning non-scheduled commercial banks is explained by the fact that during the year the business of 3 banks was taken over by the State Bank of India and 4 banks ceased to transact banking business owing to the transfer of their assets and liabilities to other banks *

3. Data on assets and liabilities of co-operative banks are not included in this publication, but names of offices of co-operative banks, including those of urban co-operative banks with capital and reserves of Rs. 1 lakh and over, are listed in Appendix I of the Tables and covered in the tables showing distribution of banking offices by population and States.

4. Banks which carry on the business of banking in India and which (a) have paid-up capital and reserves of an aggregate real or exchangeable value of not less than Rs. 5 lakhs, (b) are either State co-operative banks or companies as defined in Section 3 of the Companies Act, 1956, or corporations or companies incorporated by or under any law in force in any place outside India or institutions notified by the Central Government in this behalf, and (c) satisfy the Reserve Bank of India that their affairs are not being conducted in a manner detrimental to the interests of their depositors, are eligible for inclusion in the Second Schedule to the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, and when so included are known as 'scheduled banks.' Thus, the State co-operative banks and commercial banks which fulfil these conditions are eligible for inclusion in the Second Schedule to the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934. The scheduled commercial banks are further classified in the Tables into (a) Indian scheduled commercial banks, i.e. banks having their registered offices in India and (b) foreign scheduled commercial banks, i.e. banks having their registered offices outside India.

5. Some of the important changes made in this year's edition are indicated below:

6. The Special return containing details of assets and liabilities of commercial banks was modified this year, in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee on Banking Statistics. The revisions related to the definition of deposits and their classification. Unlike in earlier years, when deposits were divided into four categories: 'fixed', 'savings', 'current' and 'others,' deposits are now classified under three categories viz., 'current', 'savings' and 'fixed' deposits. As a result of these changes, some of the items which were hitherto included in deposits are now added to 'other liabilities' and the residual category, viz., 'other deposits' is dispensed with and is partly included in current deposits and partly in fixed deposits. The information was called for on the revised basis for both 1966 and 1967, so that the data could be presented on a comparable basis for two years. However, in order to reduce the workload on banks, State-wise classification of deposits for 1966 in Tables 18 and 19 has been retained on the old basis.

7. The item "Balance of Profit" shown in the detailed tables 35(ii), 36(i) and (ii) represents the balance of profit carried forward. While some banks show in the balance sheet the balance of profit carried forward after meeting the various appropriations for the year, such as, transfers to reserves and provisions for other known liabilities, others show the amount carried forward prior to these allocations. The necessary appropriations are not carried out in the same year's account but done in the next year's account.

* In table 17, however, banks, which had ceased to function but which were still submitting returns under the Banking Regulation Act, 1949, have been covered.

For the sake of uniformity, adjustments are made in the balance of profit for such appropriations for the year as indicated in the Directors' report in respect of all banks. The balance of profit reported in the publication would thus represent uniformly the balance carried forward into the next year's account after making all the appropriations for the year and would not be as per the balance sheet, as shown in the earlier publications.

8. A statement giving the income, expenditure and distribution of profits on the basis of data reported in the published profit and loss accounts was so far presented in Table 3(ii) in the publication. The amount of income shown in this statement has generally been net of provision for taxation and 'other usual or necessary provisions' as permitted by the Banking Regulation Act. The figures of balance of profit reported by different banks in their profit and loss accounts are not strictly comparable because of the diversity of treatment of provision for taxation and bonus paid to staff. Some banks treat provision for taxation as an appropriation out of the balance of profit, while others charge it to the profit and loss account or disclose the income after deducting the provision for taxation. Again, some banks include the amount of bonus paid to staff under 'expenditure' while many others show it as an appropriation out of net profits. These limitations considerably affect the utility of the data published in this table. Since data on "Earnings and Expenses of Commercial Banks" are presented in greater detail and on a uniform basis in Table 7(i), the table on 'income, expenditure and distribution of profit of several classes of banks' published so far (Table 3(ii)) has been discontinued from this year.

9. Some of the tables giving information on liabilities and assets of banks (Tables 9 to 15 in the 1966 edition) have been based on the Monthly Returns on Form XII received under Section 27 of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949. The data reported in this form relate to the position as of last Friday of December and are not strictly comparable with the information published elsewhere in the publication (Tables 4, 5, 6, 35(ii), 36 (i) and (ii)), which are compiled from the special return as of December 31, filed by banks, in view of the differences in classification of items and the date to which the returns relate. Except Table 17 which gives month-wise information on assets and liabilities of banks which has been compiled from returns submitted by banks on Form XII, all other tables have been compiled this year on the basis of information reported in the special return submitted by banks and uniformly present the data as of 31st December.

10. The classification of banks in Table 6 on the basis of deposits has also been recast to merge smaller ranges upto Rs. 1 crore in one group, as banks with deposits of less than Rs. 1 crore account for a very small proportion of assets and liabilities of all commercial banks.

11. The data collected under some of the Surveys conducted by the Economic Department have been presented in the Tables since the 1965 edition. These relate to "Ownership of deposits", "Analysis of Investments" and "Purposewise distribution of advances" of commercial banks. Only one year's data were hitherto given in these tables. In order that these tables may be useful for reference, data relating to some selected past years have also been added in these tables this year. The information has been presented on a comparable basis for certain selected years—for example, 1951, 1956, 1961, 1966 and 1967. As information for non-scheduled banks was not available on a uniform basis for all these years, the data have been given only for scheduled commercial banks.

12. A new table giving the number of clearing houses managed by the State Bank of India, the subsidiaries of the State Bank of India and other banks has also been added in this year's edition.

13. Throughout this publication the term "commercial banks" is used to indicate banking institutions which are not co-operative banks.

EXPLANATORY NOTES TO THE TABLES

14. Table 1—Liabilities and Assets of the Reserve Bank of India, 1963 to 1967: The figures are based on the Weekly Statements of Affairs of the Issue and Banking Departments pertaining to the last Friday of the calendar year.

15. Table 2—Consolidated Position of Scheduled Commercial Banks, 1967 (Weekly): The data are compiled from the weekly returns submitted by the scheduled commercial banks under Section 42(2) of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, and relate to their business in the Indian Union.

16. Table 3—Liabilities and Assets of the Several Classes of Commercial Banks, 1969 and 1967: This table gives details of liabilities and assets of commercial banks as given in their balance sheets. The data relate to total business (including that of the overseas offices) of Indian banks and the business in India of foreign banks. These are presented separately for (i) the State Bank of India, (ii) banks* which are subsidiaries of the State Bank of India, (iii) other Indian scheduled commercial banks, (iv) foreign scheduled commercial banks and (v) non-scheduled commercial banks. The figures of assets and liabilities given in this table may not tally with those given in the detailed tables or summary table 4, as the data in these tables are based on the special return (Form A1) submitted by banks. As stated in the earlier paragraphs, deposits and other items are classified in the special return in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee on Banking Statistics. Unlike the classification of deposits into 'fixed', 'savings', 'current' and 'others,' adopted in the balance sheets, and published in Table 3, deposits are classified in the special return (A1) only under three categories: 'Fixed,' 'savings' and 'current' accounts, and presented accordingly in the subsequent tables. Current deposits in Table 3 include contingency accounts, whereas in other tables (4, 5, 6, 35(ii) and 36) contingency accounts have been separated from current accounts and included in 'other liabilities,' if they are not in the nature of deposits. Further, employees' provident fund deposits and staff security deposits are included under 'other deposits' in Table 3, but are treated as 'other liabilities' in Tables 4, 35(ii) and 36.

17. Table 4—Liabilities and Assets of Several Classes of Commercial Banks (Total Business), 1963 to 1967: This table presents in a consolidated form the more important items of liabilities and assets from the data for individual banks given in Tables 35(ii) and 36. Figures in respect of Indian banks relate to their total business i.e. business of their offices in India as well as that of their overseas branches and those in respect of foreign banks to their business in India. As stated earlier, the data reported in this table are, however, not strictly comparable with those shown in Table 3, since the information for Table 4 is compiled from the special return submitted by banks. Thus, deposits are classified for all banks uniformly under three categories viz., fixed, savings and current. The data are given under these three categories for two years 1966 and 1967; for the earlier years, the four-fold classification of deposits is retained, as revised data have not been obtained from banks. Similarly, reserves reported in this table represent free reserves and do not include provisions made for specific purposes such as investment depreciation fund, sinking fund, reserve for bad and doubtful debts, provisions for dividend, taxation, pension, provident fund, gratuity, etc. and funds set aside for charity. These provisions are treated as 'Other liabilities' for all banks for purposes of Table 4 as well as 6, 35(ii) and 36. The figures of profit made during the year are also shown in Tables 4, 6, 35(ii) and 36 on a uniform basis, after deducting the provisions made for taxation, gratuity and bonus to staff during the year.

* (1) The State Bank of Bikaner and Jaipur, (2) The State Bank of Hyderabad, (3) The State Bank of Indore, (4) The State Bank of Mysore, (5) The State Bank of Patiala, (6) The State Bank of Saurashtra and (7) The State Bank of Travancore.

18. Table 5—Liabilities and Assets of Indian Commercial Banks relating to their business in the Indian Union, 1963 to 1967: The data are compiled on the basis of the special return (Form A1) referred to earlier and relate to the business in the Indian Union of Indian commercial banks, unlike Table 4 which relates to total business for different classes of banks as stated in paragraph 17. The data for deposits under the new categories—fixed, savings and current are available only for 1966 and 1967.

19. Table 6—Liabilities and Assets of Indian Commercial Banks (Indian business) classified by size of deposits, 1966 and 1967: The data are based on the special return (A1) submitted by banks. Unlike in earlier editions when the data for this table were presented on the basis of total business (inclusive of assets and liabilities of overseas branches) of Indian commercial banks, the data for this year relate to only business in Indian Union, since the classification of banks according to deposits in the Indian Union will be more meaningful for analytical and study purposes than the classification based on their total deposits (inclusive of deposits abroad). The information is given for two years 1966 and 1967.

20. Tables 7(i) and (ii)—Earnings and Expenses of Commercial Banks — 1963 to 1967: These tables are compiled from a special return (Form A2) submitted by banks. The data cover (i) Indian scheduled commercial banks (ii) Non-scheduled commercial banks with paid-up capital and reserves of Rs. 5 lakhs and above for 1963 and 1964 and all non-scheduled commercial banks for 1965 to 1967 and (iii) foreign scheduled commercial banks in respect of their business in the Indian Union. The earnings from investments are inclusive of taxes paid at source which have been included in item XIV(a) — Provision for taxes on profits. The balance of profit (item XII) shown in the table represents profit prior to providing for taxation, gratuity and bonus to staff uniformly in respect of all banks and will, therefore, be higher than the figures of profit made during the year, as shown in Table 4.

21. Tables 8(i), 8(ii) and 8(iii) — Ownership of Deposits, Analysis of Investments and Purposewise Distribution of Advances of Scheduled Commercial Banks, 1951 to 1967: The data are based on the Surveys conducted in the Banking Division of the Economic Department of the Bank on the basis of special returns called for from banks for the purpose. The data are given for the five years 1951, 1956, 1961, 1966 and 1967. The information is given only for scheduled commercial banks.

22. Tables 9 to 13:

These tables are frequency distribution tables based on the data furnished by banks in the special return (Form A1), referred to earlier. In the previous editions, these tables were compiled from data on Form XII. Beginning with this issue, the tables are compiled from the information contained in the special return and would relate to the position as on 31st December.

23. Table 16 — Money Rates, 1967: The data are compiled by the Department of Statistics on the basis of weekly returns received by them from the local head offices of selected scheduled commercial banks, giving the rates at which different types of deposits are accepted by them during the reporting week and the corresponding amounts of deposits. The rates given in the table are weighted average rates for the month exclusive of brokerage, the weight being proportional to the deposits accepted at each rate during the period.

24. Table 17 — Liabilities and Assets in India of Commercial Banks 1967, (Monthly): The table gives the monthly position of liabilities and assets in India of scheduled commercial banks and non-scheduled commercial banks. The data are based on the monthly returns on Form XII submitted by banks under Section 27 of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949. The figures relate to the position as of last Friday of each month in 1967.

25. Table 18 — State-wise Distribution of Offices, Deposits and Bank Credit in India of all Commercial Banks, 1966 and 1967: The table is based on data obtained from the returns on Form A1 submitted by both scheduled and non-scheduled commercial banks. The data relate to the last day of the calendar year. The per capita figures of deposits, bank credit and population per office are based on the mid-year estimates of population worked out by the office of the Registrar-General of India.

26. Table 19 — State-wise Distribu- tion of Offices, Deposits and Bank Credit in India of Scheduled Commercial Banks, 1966 and 1967: This table is based on the special returns on Form A1 submitted by scheduled commercial banks and reflects the position as on the last day of the calendar year. The per capita figures of deposits, bank credit and population per office are based on the mid-year estimates of population worked out by the office of the Registrar-General of India.

27. Table 20 — Deposits of Scheduled Commercial Banks at Various Rates of Interest, 1963-67: The data are based on the half-yearly returns submitted by all the commercial banks to the Deposit Insurance Corporation till 1966 and relate to deposits which are assessable for the purpose of deposit insurance premia. For 1967, the data are compiled on the basis of the Survey of Interest Rates on Deposits and Advances as on the last Friday of April and October 1967 (Form H2) and cover all deposits, including inter-bank deposits. For purposes of this table, banks are classified into (i) Indian commercial banks which are members of the Inter-Bank Agreement on Maximum Rates of Interest on Deposits and the State Bank of India, subdivided into five groups according to the size of their deposits, (ii) foreign commercial banks and (iii) commercial banks which are not signatories to the Inter-Bank Agreement.

28. Table 21 — Advances of Scheduled Commercial Banks at Various Rates of Interest, 1967: The data relate to all scheduled commercial banks and are as on the last Friday of April and October. Advances relate to total loans and advances as reported under the Survey of Interest Rates on Deposits and Advances referred to in the previous paragraph and exclude 'money at call and short notice', 'due from banks' and 'bills purchased and discounted'.

29. Table 23 — Offices of Scheduled and Non-Scheduled Commercial Banks, 1963-67: The number of offices, as on December 31, are given separately for various classes of commercial banks viz., the State Bank of India, banks which are subsidiaries of the State Bank, other Indian scheduled commercial banks, foreign banks and non-scheduled commercial banks.

30. Table 25 — Distribution by Population of Offices of the Several Classes of Banks as at the end of 1967: This table gives the number of offices of commercial and co-operative banks in places classified by the size of population. While the information about offices of commercial banks is drawn from their returns on Form A1, that relating to co-operative banks was received from the Registrars of Co-operative Societies of the various States. Data in respect of commercial banks are as at the end of December 31, 1967 while those relating to co-operative banks are as on June 30, 1967. The population figures in this table are based on the 'Census of India, 1961 — Final Population Figures', published by the Census Commissioner of India and the data supplied by the Superintendents of Census Operations in various States. Figures of average population per office in each population group are arrived at by dividing the total population of the places where these offices function by the total number of bank offices (commercial and co-operative) in each group. However, the average population per banking office for the Indian Union as a whole is worked out on the basis of the country's estimated population in 1967.

31. Table 26 (i) and (ii) — Distribution by Population of Offices of Commercial and Co-operative Banks in Several States, 1967: Table 26(i) shows the number of offices of commercial banks, other than offices performing purely administrative functions and temporary or seasonal offices, in the different states of the Indian Union. Banks which have not sent the required statistics for 1966 and 1967 as well as those in liquidation or which have been refused licences during 1967 under Section 22 of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949, have been excluded. Table 26(ii) gives similar data in respect of offices of co-operative banks. Population figures in these tables are based on the 'Census of India, 1961 — Final Population Figures', published by the Census Commissioner of India and the data supplied by the Superintendents of Census Operations in various States. Offices situated in places for which population figures were not available are included under 'unclassified'.

32. Table 27 — Regional Distribution of Offices Opened or Closed in India by Commercial Banks, 1967: This table gives the number of commercial banking offices opened and closed in the various States and Union Territories and the net change in the number of offices during the year as well as the number of offices as on December 31.

33. Table 28 — Distribution by Population Groups of Offices Opened or Closed by Commercial Banks, 1967: This table gives the number of commercial banking offices opened and closed and the net change in the number of offices during the year as well as the number of offices in existence as on December 31, 1967, according to different population groups for the same categories of banks as in table 27. Population figures are based on the 1961 Census.

34. Table 29 — Liabilities and Assets in Foreign Countries (excluding Pakistan) of Indian Scheduled Commercial Banks, 1966 and 1967: The data are compiled from the monthly returns submitted by the banks. As the offices of Indian banks in Pakistan were taken over by the Pakistan Custodian of Enemy Property in September 1965, no returns have been received in respect of them. The table, therefore, does not give figures relating to the business of Indian banks in Pakistan. The cash-ratio is the ratio of cash and balances with the Central Bank of the country to total deposits in that country.

35. Tables 32(i) and 32(ii) — Commercial Banks which have been Amalgamated, have Transferred their Liabilities and Assets to Other Banks, have gone into Liquidation or have been Classified as Non-Banking Companies or Struck off the Register, 1963-67: Table 32(i) shows the number (with their capital and deposits) of banks which have amalgamated with others, either voluntarily or compulsorily, under the Banking Regulation Act, 1949; banks which have transferred their liabilities and assets to other banks under the Indian Companies Act, 1956, and banks whose business was acquired by the State Bank of India and its subsidiaries under the State Bank of India Act, 1955 and the State Bank of India (Subsidiary Banks) Act, 1959. Table 32(ii) covers banks which have gone into voluntary or compulsory liquidation, banks which have been classified as non-banking companies under Section 36A(2) of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 and banks which were struck off the register under the Companies Act, 1956. The data on paid-up capital and deposits are as on or about the date of amalgamation, transfer of liabilities and assets, liquidation, or classification as non-banking companies. The banks which have already been included in Table 32(i) are not included in Table 32(ii), in order to avoid double counting of banks which first transferred their liabilities and assets to other banks and subsequently went into liquidation or converted themselves into non-banking companies.

36. Table 33 — Unclaimed Deposits held by Commercial Banks, 1962-66: The data relate to deposit accounts in India which have not been operated upon for 10 years or more as on December 31 every year, and are as reported by banks on Form XI under Section 26 of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949. The data for earlier years were published in the Bank's Annual Reports on Trend and Progress of Banking in India.

37. Tables 35 and 36 — Liabilities and Assets of Foreign and Indian Commercial Banks, 1966 and 1967: Tables 35(ii) and 36 are compiled from the special returns on Form A1 submitted by the banks. Table 35(i) relates to total business of foreign banks based on their global balance sheets while 35(ii) relates to their business in India as reported in the special return mentioned above. Data given in Table 36 relate to total business of Indian banks (inclusive of business of foreign branches of these banks). As stated earlier, deposits are given under three categories viz., 'fixed', savings and 'current'. Investments are also shown under three categories viz., "Government securities", "Other approved securities" and "Other investments". The "Balance of profit or loss" shown in the table indicates the balance carried forward to the next year's account after making all the appropriations such as transfers to reserves, provisions for dividend and other purposes. Profit or loss made during the year reported here represents the net amount after providing for tax, gratuity and bonus to staff. The date of registration or incorporation is shown below the name of each bank. In Table 36, the name of the town in which the registered office of the bank is located, is shown after the name of the bank in column 2. The number of offices of banks outside India is shown in brackets alongside the number of offices in India under column 26.
